HONEYWELL BUILDING CONTROL SYSTEMS HONORS “DISTRIBUTOR OF THE YEAR” AT 2011 MOMENTUM CONFERENCE

MI Controls Earns Top Honor of Excellence in 2010

MINNEAPOLIS, May, 24, 2011 – Honeywell (NYSE: HON) today announced that MI Controls, with offices in Seattle, WA and Portland, OR, has received Honeywell Building Control Systems “2010 Distributor of the Year” award.

“MI Controls is a technology solutions leader for the HVAC controls industry and a strong advocate for Honeywell in Washington and Oregon,” said Dave Molin, general manager, Honeywell Building Control Systems. “Their business results and their service to their customers are truly exceptional – and set them apart. MI Controls rose to the top of that list and we’re proud to name them our 2010 Distributor of the Year.”

Honeywell Authorized Systems Distributors are considered for this annual award, which is based on a two-year rolling volume, year-over-year growth, product mix, commitment to training and more. MI Controls is currently a Honeywell Diamond Distributor. Thirteen distributors earned Honeywell’s “Diamond Distributor” status, which is an elite honor in itself, said Molin.
